Election Oct. 17

Seven Candidates For Two Town Council Seats

Golden Wedding Observed

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bain celebrated their Golden Wedding with open house at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Leslie.

Mr. Bain came to Alberta from Quebec in 1907 and Mrs. Bain from Illinois in 1909. They were married in Lethbridge Oct. 1, 1912 and homesteaded in the Travers district. In 1926 they moved to Blackie and to Mossleigh in 1933.

Mrs. Nellie Sutcliffe, sister of Mrs. Bain of Grand Ridge, Ill., and Mrs. Silva Jones of Milo, a friend from homestead days were in charge of pouring tea. The tea table was centered by a golden wedding cake in the shape of a 50, a gift from Alvin Bain. The silver tea service that was used was a wedding gift to Laura, sister of Mr. Bain, sixty years ago. The three-tiered anniversary cake was made by Mrs. Hugh Leslie and decorated by Mrs. John Groeneveld. Alvin Bain was in charge of the guest book.

The four Bain children and their families were all able to attend. They were: Mr. and Mrs. Roy Leslie and family; Mr. and Mrs. Carl Litchfield and family; Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Bain and family, and Edward Bain. There are 13 grandchildren and one great grandchild.

The couple received flowers from Mrs. Bertha Cotter and family of Montreal, Mrs. Emma Cameron of Lethbridge and the Community Club. Mr. and Mrs. Bain received many cards and phone calls of congratulations, among them those from members of parliament, Mr. Kindt, Lt. Gov. Percy Page, Premier Manning and Prime Minister Diefenbaker.

Out-of-town guests were from Grand Ridge, Ill., Lethbridge, Vulcan, High River, Coronation, Calgary, Red Deer, Shouldice, Blackie, Majorville, Lomond, Enchant, Carmangay, Carleton Place, Strathmore, Dewinton and Arrowwood.

Drivers, could you stand to see a child killed?

SERVICE BOARD NOTES

Norman Soder

With the early harvest we hope to get the Bangs vaccinating under way as soon as possible, to take advantage of the nice weather that we sometimes enjoy in the fall rather than leaving it for the winter when the weather is not so favorable.

According to the Livestock Disease Act, heifer calves between the ages of 4 to 11 months within a restricted area, are to be vaccinated. Also, upon given notice that a veterinarian will be at a farm to vaccinate such calves, on a said date and time, the farmer or person in charge of such calves, will have the calves confined in such a way as to make it convenient for the veterinarian to vaccinate the calves.

We have found in the past that while many farmers have good restraining equipment, others do not. Also that when the veterinarian arrives to vaccinate the calves he has to help cut the calves from the herd causing considerable delay in the day's schedule.

While it is still early in the year, we would ask the farmers to check over their restraining equipment and if it needs repairs, do them before the day of vaccinating arrives. If the farmer has no restraining equipment, we would recommend that he build something suitable, such as a narrow alley, narrow enough so that a calf cannot turn around, and long enough to hold at least six or a dozen or more calves. We would also ask that the farmer have his calves divided from his herd, before the veterinarian arrives, to help him keep his schedule.

Women's Group Urges Support For Library Bylaw

Increased interest in town affairs is evidenced by the number of candidates nominated to contest two seats on the town council this month.

The vacancies are the seats occupied by Francis Burchak, whose term of office has expired, and W. G. Sutherland, who resigned recently when he was moved to Edmonton by his employers, Alberta Government Telephones.

A total of seven candidates will stand for election to the two council seats. They are: Frank Burchak, school principal (standing for re-election); Maurice W. (Bud) Haverty, farmer; James V. (Skeez) Christensen, farmer; Caryl Jordan, farmer; Lawrence Mensinger, freight line operator; Stanley Scales, farmer; John Wolfe, merchant.

The election will take place on Wednesday, Oct. 17, at the Town Office, with polls open from 10:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m. M. K. Sinclair is the returning officer.

Eligible to vote are all persons 21 years of age or over, Canadian citizens or British subjects, who have been residents of the Town of Vulcan since November 1, 1961. To vote in elections for town councillors, it is NOT necessary to be a property owner.

At the same time and place, votes will be cast on the bylaw providing for the establishment of a municipal library in Vulcan. On this money bylaw, only proprietary electors (property owners) of the Town of Vulcan may vote. A two-thirds majority is needed for the bylaw to carry successfully.

A moment of carelessness can mean a lifetime of regret.

Mel Jordan Buys Banks 99 Service

Announcement is made in this issue of the sale of Banks 99 Service to Mel Jordan. The business will in future be known as Mel's 99 Service.

Operator of the business for the past 18 years, Bev Banks has lived in Vulcan since 1941, coming here originally as a grain buyer. He will continue to live in Vulcan, operating his farm and school buses.

Mel Jordan is a native son of the Champion-Vulcan district and has been employed at Banks 99 Service for the past three years. Through this association, he is well acquainted with the needs of his customers and will maintain the same high standard of service.

Mr. Banks will stay on at the service station until the end of the year to help facilitate the change in ownership.

Migratory and Upland

Bird Hunting Season Opens On Oct. 5

The hunting season on migratory and upland birds opens in Southern Alberta this coming Friday, Oct. 5.

On duck, geese, coots and rails the season is open until Dec. 15, with a daily bag limit of four of each species and possession limit of eight. There is no open season on redhead and canvasback ducks, swans, cranes and Ross' geese.

Hours of hunting are from one-half hour before sunrise to one-half hour after sunset, daily except Sundays.

On ringneck cock pheasants, Hungarian partridge, Sharpshooting, ruffed grouse and spruce grouse, the season is open from Oct. 5 to Oct. 31, then closing for nine days and re-opening on Saturday, Nov. 10 and remaining open until Dec. 8. For blue grouse and ptarmigan the season is Sept. 1 to Dec. 8.

The daily bag limit of ringneck cock pheasant is three and possession limit is 24. On all other upland birds on which there is an open season in Southern Alberta the daily limit is five and possession limit 25. There is no open season on wild turkey, chukar partridge, sage grouse or pinnated grouse.

Hours of hunting for upland birds are 8:00 a.m. to one-half hour after sunset daily except Sunday.

Hunters are reminded that they should always ask permission from a farmer before shooting on his land. This is not only common courtesy, but is required by regulations under the Game Act.

A farmer may now post his land for "No Shooting" and shoot on it himself or give others permission to shoot on it. If persons trespass on privately owned land and have been previously warned by word of mouth or by properly displayed "No Trespassing" signs (posted at each corner of the land and at each entrance thereto) they may be charged under Chapter 60 of the Revised Statutes of Alberta which deals with trespass.

Hunters are not permitted to carry loaded guns in vehicles or discharge guns from vehicles and cannot shoot within 200 yards of farm buildings.

Lomond Man Killed At Coast

An old-timer of the Lomond district was killed recently in an accident at Vancouver.

Elder Norris Ward Plumb, born April 7, 1903, in Norwich, N.D., came to Canada with his parents in 1909 to the Lomond district. His father ran the Brunetta and Elder store and post office. Then he moved to Vulcan in 1911 with his mother and later on, his father purchased a farm west of Vulcan. He and his father farmed together until he went to Calgary where he was employed by the Dominion Bridge Co. for two years before transferring to Vancouver where he had been working until his death. Mr. Plumb was killed when crushed under a five-ton steel beam at the company plant in Burnaby, B.C., Tuesday, Sept. 11.

The funeral was held in the Simmons-McBride Funeral Chapel, Vancouver, on Monday, Sept. 17. He is survived by his wife Anne; a son, John Plumb, Calgary; his mother, Mrs. Minnie Hansen, Spokane, and four sisters, Mrs. Harry (Grace) Smith, Mrs. Gene (Brunetta) West, Chase, B.C., Mrs. Pearl Carr, Calgary and Mrs. V. Water Pipeline To Little Bow Proposed Kirkcaldy W.I.

Mrs. Donald MacKay was hostess for the Kirkcaldy Women's Institute on Sept. 27 at the Kirkcaldy hall with 15 members and two visitors present. Mrs. Glen Bateman presided with Mrs. Bob Cutler as secretary and Mrs. Stan Comstock as treasurer. Roll call was answered by "Changes I would like to see in 1963 handicraft competition."

Reports from library, rest room and sick committees were given by representatives Mrs. Stan Comstock reported on Sabine Polio Immunization program which was to be held in Vulcan on Nov. 21, but has been deferred until later in 1963.

Report from proceeds of lunch counter at Lloyd Jones' auction sale was read and a show of appreciation was extended to the convening committee. Plans are underway in preparation for the catering booth at the Jim Jensen-George Finnigan auction sale on Oct. 11.

Mrs. Loss Kuykendall of Vulcan demonstrated the making of a quilt, and very capably answered any questions on quilting. The tea draw was won by Mrs. Bill Murray. Birthday gift was presented to Mrs. Donald MacKay from her Sunshine Friend.

Results of the past year's water well drilling program, which only brought a yield of 30 gallons per minute from five wells, coupled with an Alberta Research Council report which states, following a well evaluation program, that prospects are not good for drilling high capacity wells for town water, have led Vulcan town council to institute steps to supply the town with water from the Little Bow River, some 12 miles west of Vulcan.

The town's consulting engineers, C. C. Parker, Whitaker & Co. Ltd., have been in consultation with the Provincial Water Resources Branch and the Provincial Sanitary Engineering Division during the past month. The proposed pipeline route has been checked and preliminary studies completed. Detailed cost estimates are expected this week. The estimated cost is $290,000, of which a possible $30,000 may be recovered under the Winter Works Program.

The plan tentatively approved by the town council calls for taking water from the Little Bow at a point about six miles south of the Connemara bridge. A six-inch "surface" (buried about two feet deep) pipeline of cement-asbestos would be used to bring the water to the outskirts of Vulcan, where a 50 million gallon capacity open reservoir would be constructed. The reservoir would be lined with plastic to prevent leakage and soil contamination. From the reservoir an eight-inch pipeline (buried eight feet deep) would connect with the town's present water system, with the present elevated tank used to provide pressure for the domestic system.

Water Resources Branch engineers have estimated that the controlled flow of the Little Bow river, which is fed by springs and by a diversion from the Highwood River, will be sufficient to allow pumping to be done a minimum of seven months of each year. The winter flow is inadequate under present conditions, which necessitates the construction of the large reservoir to ensure an ample wintertime supply.

The quality of the water in the Little Bow is considered adequate by the Provincial Sanitary Engineering Division, but a filtration and chlorination system is included in the proposed plan to ensure a high standard of quality.

The existing wells in Vulcan provide between 50,000 and 90,000 US gallons per day. The supply from the Little Bow would allow all presently-used wells to be cut off from the town supply, with the better-quality wells kept as a reserve for protection of the reservoir supply in case of serious fires. This would eliminate any contamination from the objectionable salts which create health and corrosion problems.

Based on population, it is estimated that a daily demand of up to 250,000 US gallons per day exists in Vulcan — three times the capacity of the present system. In ten years the demand would likely reach 300,000 gallons per day and the proposed Little Bow system

Church Of Christ Candlelight Group Meets

The Candlelight Circle of the Vulcan Church of Christ met on Sept. 20, at the home of Mrs. Jack Deans. Twelve members answered the roll call with a Bible verse concerning Autumn or Fall. Each member brought a tea towel for the church.

Jack Deans, Sr., brought the devotional thought for the evening, "Our Christian Heritage." The president and secretary were asked to represent the Circle at the meeting on Oct. 10, regarding the 50th Anniversary of the Town of Vulcan.

It was decided that the Circle pay the balance owing on the floor covering. The Nanton church has asked the Candlelight Circle to take part in a missionary study to be held at Nanton the latter part of October.

Mrs. Charles Boutland had an interesting contest about flowers. The evening was brought to a close with the serving of a delicious lunch by Mrs. Ron Pelham and Mrs. Doug Smith, assisted by the hostess.

Former Mossleigh Farmer Passes

A former resident of the Mossleigh and Blackie districts, William Fowler of Birch Island, B.C., died on Sept. 14, at the age of 80.

Coming from Ontario as a young man, he farmed extensively in the Mossleigh-Blackie area before moving, in the late 30's, to B.C. where he continued to farm until last year.

Surviving are two sisters, Mrs. May Hardy of Lindsay, Ont., and Mrs. Ada Buckner of Turner Valley. He was predeceased by a sister, Mrs. Jean Fowler.

would be able to supply this demand.

The reservoir could be replenished or the level maintained at periods of reasonable flow in the Little Bow and the town supply would not be dependent on the reliability of that flow on a day-to-day basis.

The surface line would be designed to permit quick draining, which would allow limited use during the off season if the need arose.

It is estimated that increased summertime use of water in Vulcan, along with the natural growth of the town, would make the project self-liquidating without any increase in water rates. The project has the unanimous support of the members of the town council and action to implement the plan this fall will be taken as soon as the cost estimates are received and approved.

U.S. Coins A Popular Business

The average Canadian's pocketful of change doesn't contain today many U.S. coins — a sharp reversal of the situation a year ago when a substantial number of American nickels, dimes and quarters were circulating in this country, says The Financial Post. Bank officials say the reduction in the number of U.S. coins in Canadian pockets is one effect of the devaluation of the Canadian dollar.

As long as Canadian merchants were facing a discount in other years on U.S. coins, they tended to keep circulating them rather than take a loss at the bank. This summer, merchants, vending machine operators and others eagerly are keeping U.S. coins and redeeming them at the bank for the premium. Banks pay on U.S. coins a premium of 1% below the premium prevailing on U.S. notes as long as the customer turns in at least $1.00 worth. The 1% difference offsets the costs to banks of shipping U.S. coins back across the border.

Lomond News

Mr. and Mrs. Tony Bonogofsky and family returned home Sunday from their holidays. Tony is the CPR agent. While he was away he was relieved by G. W. Buker. The new sidewalks and crosswalks in Lomond were completed on Saturday of last week.

Miss Helen Mercier was a visitor in Calgary on Saturday of last week.

Mrs. L. Chase and Mrs. Anne Ruppert were visitors in Lethbridge on Saturday of last week.

LAC-1 Lenny Wong left Saturday to return to his duties at the RCAF base at Greenwood, N.S. Lenny had spent his furlough at home visiting his father and brother, Joe and Kenny Wong. He also spent a few days at Swift Current, Sask., visiting his sister, Donna Mae, who attends school there.

Quite a number from Lomond enjoyed the wedding dance held last Friday evening at Armada in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Richie Stokes, recent newly-weds.

Terry Chase was a weekend visitor at the Ralph Richardson home at Berrywater.

Miss Ruth Caulfield of Calgary was a weekend visitor at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Caulfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Reg. Frost and Marilyn, Mr. and Mrs. Hirst Goldthorpe and Keith, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Clark and the West families were all Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stan Craig at Bassano.

Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Caulfield and family of Calgary were weekend visitors at the home of the former's parent, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Caulfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Howg and daughter Linda and Harold Olson motored to Mossleigh on Sunday where they spent a most enjoyable day attending the open house celebration held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bain, honoring them on their golden wedding anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Bain are well known around here as they were old-timers of the Lomond and Travers district. Also present for the occasion was Mr. Bain's sister, Mrs. Emma J. Cameron.

Mrs. Lena Huff is visiting relatives at Hoadley.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom May were visitors in Lethbridge on Saturday of last week.

Delmer Huff spent a couple of days in the Vulcan Hospital last week having had the misfortune to break his wrist.

Those from Lomond attending the Lions School of Instruction, held at the Hamilton Junior High School in Lethbridge on Saturday, Sept. 29, were Lions Hirst Goldthorpe, Floyd Howg, Fred Walker, Al West and Len Chase. Panels were held for presidents, secretaries and tall twisters, also a general panel. Vice-presidents and publicity chairmen were urged to attend. The luncheon guest speaker was Dean Cousins of Lethbridge Junior College. His talk was most interesting and informative and very much enjoyed by the Lomond Lions who attended.

Mrs. Fred Walker was a visitor in Lethbridge on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Richardson and family of Berrywater were Sunday visitors at the home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. Chase.

Mrs. Joan Hart and Mrs. Anne Ruppert were visitors in Brooks one day last week.

The Lomond Lutheran Sunday School held a bake sale last Friday at the Lomond General Store.

A Fire Training School was held in Lomond on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings by Inspector Kennedy from the Fire Marshall's Office. Fire Chief Pete Ruppert reports that the turnout of local volunteer fire brigade was very poor. However the ones who did appear worked hard to make the school a success. Much credit is due these people as untrained men are completely useless in an emergency that can arise at any time.

Motoring to Calgary last week to see the Patterson-Liston heavyweight title bout were the following: Leonard Huff, Walter Domolewski, Merle Sande, Floyd Standard, Earl Helland and Leonard Sokvitne.

Mrs. Joan Hart, Mrs. Anne Ruppert and Mrs. Dollna Henderson were Lethbridge visitors on Monday of this week.

Mrs. Helen Pearson and Mrs. Vi Gray were shoppers in Lethbridge on Friday of last week.

DICK DONILY

People of Lomond and district were shocked and saddened by the sudden tragic death of Dick Donily of the Preston Community, early Thursday afternoon, Sept. 6.

Mr. Donily was operating his combine. He apparently stopped the combine to repair a leaky hydraulic line which operated the combine table. When found he was underneath the table and indications were that it had fallen on him, inflicting fatal head injuries. Death was instantaneous. Just that morning he had delivered the first load of wheat for 1962 to the National Elevator at Vermilion.

Mr. Donily was 47 years of age. He was highly esteemed in the community. His farming operations were well managed and he had just built a new modern home. He was an active currier and interested in all district activities.

He leaves to mourn his death, his wife, Eileen; six daughters, Diane, Shirley, Janice, Mary Ann, Beverly and Mrs. Dallas Hines, all of Vermilion; one son, Larry; four sisters, Mrs. Buelah Allen of Vulcan, Mrs. Hazel Marks of Lomond, Mrs. Ada Hamilton of Ottawa and Mrs. Martha Cranston of Portland, Ore.; three brothers, Eugene of Vancouver, Irvin of Calgary and Stanley of Stanmore; one grandchild, Lorie Ellen Hines.

Funeral services were held from the First United Church at Vermilion on Monday, Sept. 10, at 2:00 o'clock in the afternoon. Interment took place at the Vermilion cemetery.

Pall bearers were Messrs Howard Coburn, Lloyd Howard, Lindy Fadden, Bert Carey, Charles Gool and Jess Martin. Donald's Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Action On Water Problem

Costly but necessary just about sums up the proposed construction of a water pipeline to the Little Bow river and a 50-million-gallon storage reservoir to give Vulcan an ample supply of good quality water.

The plan has been under study by the town's engineers since the middle of August — at the request of the town's water committee — and if everything goes smoothly it is expected that the major part of the construction will be done before winter sets in.

An Alberta Research Council report that wells cannot be expected to supply Vulcan with good quality water in sufficient quantity and that the surface runoff water and most wells in this area contain objectionable amounts of salts made it imperative that another source of supply be utilized or the growth and future of the town would be jeopardized.

Detailed cost estimates have not been received at the time of writing and there may be flaws in the plan not apparent at this moment, but at least some positive action is being taken to solve Vulcan's water problem and for this we congratulate the town council.

The Poisons In Your Home

"Prevent Accidental Poisoning" is the theme of this year's National Pharmacy Week promotion sponsored by the pharmacists of Canada. They are hoping to focus the attention of the public on the needless tragedies caused by accidental poisoning.

Last year 100,000 Canadian children were curious enough to eat or drink a quantity of something which was not a food. Over 200 of them died. These deaths could have been prevented, and unless parents are constantly on guard, even more children will die in the next twelve months.

A child who will not drink his milk will cheerfully swallow several ounces of kerosene or floor cleaner. The child who won't eat his carrots will consume several dozen headache tablets, sleeping pills or tranquilizers without water.

Virtually all accidental poisonings could have been prevented. The rules to follow are not complicated. They are:

1. Store household agents such as lye, cleaning and polishing preparations, kerosene, paints, etc., high in cabinets or in a locked cupboard.
 2. Store all medicine in locked cabinets.
 3. Always return products to their storage place. Never, not even to answer the phone, leave on furniture or on the floor.
 4. Never store medicines or household products in another container, particularly one used for food (such as a soft drink bottle, or milk bottle).
 5. Discard medicines and household products by flushing the unused portion down the drain.
 6. Read and heed labels. Use according to directions.
 7. Do not take, or give, medicines in the dark, or without reading the label.
 8. Never call medicine "candy."
 9. Never give a prescribed medicine to a person other than the one for whom it was prescribed. When the illness for which it was prescribed is relieved, destroy any unused medicine.
- Your child's life is precious. Protect him against his own curiosity, and educate him to the dangers of accidental poisoning. Remember, if it is not food, it is poison.

H.S. Sports Awards Presented

The following people were congratulated for their achievements in sports at this school for the past year. The recognition was in conjunction with the graduation awards.

Called to the stage to receive this trophy was Barry Deal.

The Invitational Bonspiel winners were: Wayne Christie, Gary Beagle, who received the coveted Lloyd's Jewellery Trophy; Merla Robertson and Margo Snow.

Also included in this year's awards for challenge curling was the Milo Implement Dealers Challenge Shield. Marilyn Hansen accepted the shield for the others who helped her win it. They were Doug Fletcher, Lee Sommerville and Carolyn Haga.

The final sports awards of the day were crests that were given to the highest athletes in each class of the local track meet. Winners of the crests were: Class E. Warren Webber and Delores Doane; Class F. Blaine Degenstein and Jo McInenly.

The list of winners would not be complete unless Leslie Perley and Lorraine Nowlin's name were added because they were chosen best for the Harry LaRoche Memorial Trophy. Included in this athletes.

Plans for next year might be a color night to honor just the athletes of the year. It is also planned that we give white chenille "A's" for each top boy and girl in each sport and a gold chenille "A" for the all-around athlete.

Noon hour football teams are in operation for the fall term. The teams were selected from the interested players. Three very energetic teams are entered. They play every two days and then get a one day lay off.

The teams are: Cougars—Larry Loscy (captain), Bud Bodell, Sam Burger, Jack Williams, Frank Cummins, Allen Hubbard, Brian Adams, Keith Alder, Teddy Shaw, Bob Oakes, Raymond Siracky, Dwight Farrel and Bud Cockwill.

What is to be believed to be a Canadian record handling for a single country elevator has been established by the Alberta Wheat Pool at Fort St. John in B.C. In the past season, the Pool elevator at that point received a total of 849,611 bushels of grain. This is more than nine times the average handling of all country elevators in Alberta and British Columbia.

The agent in charge of the elevator, Owen Hughson, figures this is enough grain to fill four long trainloads or one of the largest cargo ships now in use. Had all of the grain been wheat, it would have been sufficient to provide every man, woman and child in Canada with nearly three loaves of bread. However, while handlings were mainly wheat, they also included oats, barley and flax.

Fort St. John lies at the northern end of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway in the Peace River block of British Columbia. Elevators were built there only four years ago when the rail line was extended to the point. Grain now comes in from as far as 200 miles up the Alaska Highway and Fort St. John has become one of the large grain marketing points in the West.

Not far behind Fort St. John was the Pool's elevator at High Prairie operated by Ted Murray, which topped all Pool elevators in Alberta with a handling of 758,928 bushels, a figure only once before surpassed in Alberta. That was by Ted's father, Harry Murray, at Sexsmith in 1941.

Another record may have been established by Pool elevators at Girouxville, Falher and Donnelly, also in the Peace River area. These elevators, located on a nine-mile stretch of track, handled 2,184,000 bushels. The Wheat Pool states that it is doubtful if any other similar sized area can match this figure.

An extremely big crop throughout the Peace River area last year made possible last year's large handlings.

STRONG COMEBACK NOTED ON P.F.R.A. PASTURES DURING 1962

REGINA.—In April and May, 1962 range conditions were critical in many P.F.R.A. Community Pasture areas, as a result of the 1961 drought. General rains commencing late in May radically changed this picture, according to Mr. H. J. Hargrave, Chief of Agricultural Services for P.F.R.A.

Mr. Hargrave indicated that virtually all P.F.R.A. Community Pastures will conclude the 1962 grazing season with a good carry-over of grass and ample water supplies. In the extreme southwestern corner of Saskatchewan, where drought has been prevalent for several years, pastures have the best carry-over of grass that has been seen for a number of years.

This has been due to improved moisture conditions experienced over most of the prairies during the past summer. One exception is in the Medicine Hat area of southeastern Alberta, where continuing dry weather conditions have had a serious effect on native range. In that area there has been little current production of grass, coupled with an unusually heavy infestation of weeds on the range. A serious shortage of feed is again evident in this area.

As a result of spring conditions, fewer cattle were initially accepted by P.F.R.A. pastures. As grazing conditions improved, however, additional cattle were accepted, raising the total number of cattle pastured to 133,000 head for the current season.

According to Mr. Hargrave, grasshoppers were a serious menace in Saskatchewan in 1962. To control these insects a total of 13,000 acres of pasture land in 16 different pastures were sprayed with the insecticide Sevin during the summer months.

There are now 71 P.F.R.A. Community Pastures in operation, enclosing approximately 2,100,000 acres of land in the three prairie provinces, and these figures are increasing every year as new pastures are being established, he said.

During the past season construction was carried out on four new pastures, including completion of work on the Gardenton and Wallace pastures in Manitoba, which opened for operation in 1962. Construction of the Foam Lake and Kelvington pastures in Saskatchewan is well advanced, and these new pastures will commence operations next spring. Construction of a new pasture near Spiritwood, Saskatchewan, will commence in early October. Investigations are currently being carried out on 14 proposed P.F.R.A. pastures in Manitoba and Saskatchewan.

Of Many Things

ENVY

When my twin daughters and I went walking near our country cottage in Manitoba, we came across a little farmstead in a remote part of the bushland. At the rail fence a small girl, about eight I would guess, watched wide-eyed as we approached.

"Hi," shouted the twins, using the magic greeting of 10 year olds to melt the ice.

The little girl, who obviously needed a handkerchief, had a shy and breathless "Hi" to give them in return.

"Do you live here?" Franny asked.

The little girl nodded.

"All year round?" asked Martha. Again the silent nod. Then, with a burst of animated pride, "We got pigs—and chickens. I own a chicken of my own."

They were off, then, the three of them, poking among the pigs and chickens, giggling, enjoying every treasure in the ramshackle farmyard. The father came out and chatted with me. He was young, rather poorly dressed, and he grinned widely at the antics of my twins and his daughter.

In a moment of quiet, he looked about his disordered yard and the rickety, banked-up house. Then he looked me in the eye. "We've only been here three months. We'll put it in good shape in time. It's not—well, I've got no education, but I can make a living here and be independent."

I nodded. "I sure like being independent," he said.

On our long trek back to our cottage the twins were quiet, for them. Then Martha said, "Gosh—she's lucky. We get only two months, but she's here all year round!" They went on in that vein all the way home, envy in every phrase. I didn't reprimand them. I felt a little bit the same way. I sure like independence, too!
